This bar does The Cluster. Here's how.

four easy steps.

1 walk to the bar.

Not behind someone. To the bar. It's the long wooden thing.

2 pick a gap.

Any gap. Leave some elbow room. This is not a cuddle.

3 catch an eye.

A nod. A raised eyebrow. A tenner held with quiet confidence. No waving. No clicking.

4 trust the barperson.

They know who's next. They always know. It's their entire job.

WORKED EXAMPLE

25 minutes. or six.

Twenty orders, 75 seconds each. One spot on the bar, or four staff along it.

Arithmetic, not a stopwatch. Real pubs are messier.

Think you're ready?
Take the test.
